The gap remains in between.

It's difficult to write <queer art>. What is queer art? (anyway: What is queer? What is art?)
Still we want to try.

We are looking for queer art. Art, that opposes, that shows the perverted normality, that intermediates and ironically says: Well, my friend! That's not the way you thought it should be!
And more precisely: if the art you create is queer, then what is the role of queer-feminism, everyday-life-sexism and trans in your work?

W_e wan_t_t_o s_ee_it!

The exhibition Q.[art] – what the a_rt?! is part of the project Q. which takes place from 30.09.2013 to 13.10.2013 in Halle (Saale). In a temporary used space, a gap in temporary use, several artistic and scientific formats like lectures, films, workshops will happen. Especially the topics queer-feminism, every-day-sexism and transsexuality will be discussed in public.
